

Spring 2010 Essay Contest
INSTRUCTION SHEET FOR PARTICIPANT

The following instructions must be strictly followed:

Title of Essay: The Importance of Maintaining Good Credit
How will the way I handle credit today affect my future?

As you graduate from high school, you will have opportunities to establish credit. You will probably be offered a credit card and may finance all or some of your college education using loans. Today you probably have a clean credit slate. But, your repayment of these credit cards and loans will become the foundation of your credit history. Your essay should reveal your feelings about the importance of maintaining good credit. In preparing to write your essay, we urge you to interview adults in your life. Ask them how a good credit history has helped them and — just as importantly — how bad credit may have hurt them. Your research might also include information obtained from newspaper articles, the internet, and consumer credit councils, to name a few. Seek a variety of sources. Then, formulate your essay based on your feelings about what you have learned. How will the way you choose to manage your credit today affect your future?
